ABOUT US

National Student Exchange (NSE) provides collegiate study away for undergraduate students at member campuses in the United States, Canada, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. Since 1968, NSE has arranged affordable exchange opportunities for more than 128,000 students.

Study away through NSE includes diverse university settings and access to a wide array of courses, programs, field experiences, and internships. Options for special programs, honors, and study abroad are also available. Students exchange for a semester, academic year, or summer, depending upon their academic program.

NSE features tuition reciprocity by allowing you to study away paying host campus resident tuition (Away Tuition Payment) or the normal tuition of your home campus (Home Tuition Payment). Work completed while on exchange is transferred back to your home institution, keeping you on track to graduation.

FIND A CAMPUS

Students work with their home campus NSE coordinator and academic advisor to plan for study away with NSE. Select "Explore Campuses" at NSE.org and then "Campus Search" to begin. Enter your "Home Campus" and the search will be customized for you. If you are undecided, use the search filters to narrow down your options.

Once you have identified several NSE campuses in which you are interested, visit each campus profile. The profile contains a campus description, academic programs, and campus-specific information to assist you in your plan for an exchange.

Competitiveness of a campus placement is determined by payment plan options, academic programs, enrollment limitations, housing availability, and/or the number of applicants for exchange. Your NSE coordinator will assist you to determine the likelihood of placement. Students are encouraged to research a first-choice campus and alternate choices for their NSE study away experience.

We're always open! NSE applications are accepted year-round, and exchange placements may occur March through November. Ready to launch your NSE adventure? Apply today!
